

WHERE WE ARE BASED

The programme is taught partly in the UK and partly in Portugal.

Semester 1 in the UK focuses on assessments, fundamental theories and understanding how to train effectively.

Semester 2 in Portugal takes advantage of the longer days and better weather, thus focus is on tournament preparation and play.

Both venues have bespoke interactive classrooms for the delivery of theory and practical subjects. In the UK we also use the sport science labs at St Mark and St Johns University to give a hands on learning approach. Students are expected to study at both venues and have full access to the necessary resources to achieve at degree level.

OUR GOLF LOCATIONS

In the UK we are based at one of the finest golf courses in Europe, St Mellion International Resort, boasting two 18 hole courses (the Nicklaus and Kernow), driving range, practice putting greens, short and long game areas, swing studio, free weights gym, cardio gym, swimming pool and sauna.

In Portugal we are based at the world-class Amendoeira Golf Resort, again with two 18 hole courses (the Faldo and O'Connor), 9 hole floodlit par 3 Junior O'Connor, driving range, swing studio, practice putting greens, long and short game areas, free weights gym, cardio gym, astro pitches and swimming pool. Our swing studios in both locations contain the latest equipment and training aids, including SAM PuttLab, FlightScope X2, BodyBalance force platform and high speed cameras.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

We welcome international students on to both our FdSc and BSc (Hons) courses and have an international office to help handle your enrolment.

TOURNAMENT GOLF COLLEGE

Designed as the degree for the playing professional, Tournament Golf College combines education and performance development into a single package.

Both the FdSc Tournament Golf and BSc (Hons) programmes blend sport science and business studies with your golf development. You will study Golf Psychology, Golf Conditioning, Training and Periodisation, Performance Analysis, Sports Sponsorship and Golf Tour Business.

TGC TEAM

TGC is unique and so is our team, we combine backgrounds in performance management, business acumen and inventive delivery to create a programme that truly helps you develop.

Alex Lindsay leads the team, his background is strongly business. Darren Gass manages the performance, he is a world class golf coach, having worked with some of the best in the world. Darren's passion is developing talented elite amateurs.

Dr Nic Rowley manages the programme, integrating performance with study. Having worked at the highest level in UK sports, Nic makes the academic come alive in practice. But we don't work alone; we use industry experts with backgrounds as far apart as nutrition and psychology to deliver the very latest concepts, technique and understanding.

DRIVING YOUR SUCCESS

Designed as the degree for the playing professional.

To be a golf professional takes skill, drive and application. If you have all three, then here at TGC, we add the winning ingredients.

We will help you to:

Prepare - we prepare you to succeed, mentally, physically, tactically, technically, personally and academically.

Practice - we provide the best facilities in Europe in which to practice, the latest technology to hone your game and a proven successful coaching programme.

Play - we include a playing environment that allows you to compete against the best whilst gaining a British University Degree.

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

The TGC programme was designed for individuals who wish to become playing professionals. You will need at least a handicap of 5 (male) or 8 (female) and obtain 160 UCAS points for the 2 year FdSc course or 220 UCAS points for the 3 year BSc degree.

However, above all we look for individuals with the desire to succeed and the determination to make it happen.

GOLF TOURNAMENTS

To develop as a professional golfer you need competition experience playing against other category one golfers or professionals (you won't lose your amateur status don't worry). We work alongside the Algarve Pro Golf Tour and Jamega Tours to deliver a range of opportunities for our students in Portugal and throughout the summer in the UK. Within this programme competitions are organised around and integrated into your studies.

This is THE degree for the playing professional golfer.
